

Japan Expressway Pass Area

The JEP pass cannot be used on expressways in Hokkaido.

C Honshu-Shikoku Bridge Expressway

Expressway where JEP cannot be used

This map shows the Honshu-Shikoku Bridge Expressway network, including routes such as Nishi-Seto Expwy, Seto Chuo Expwy, and Kobe-Awaji-Naruto Expwy. It also marks major interchanges like Hayashima IC, Sakaide IC, Imabari IC, and Naruto IC.

B Hanshin Expwy

Expressway where JEP cannot be used

This map details the Hanshin Expressway network, covering routes like Sanyo Expwy, Chugoku Expwy, and Hanshin Expwy. It highlights major hubs such as Kansai International Airport, Kobe Airport, and the Kyoto Line.

A Shutoko Expwy

Expressway where JEP cannot be used

This map shows the Shuto Expressway network, including routes like Tohoku Expwy, Chuo Expwy, and Keio Road. It covers major areas around Tokyo, such as Haneda Airport and the Tokyo Wan Aqua-Line Expressway.

This map shows the expressway network in Hokkaido, including routes like Hokkaido Expwy, Doto Expwy, and Hidaka Expwy. It also marks airports like Aomori Airport and Momoshi Toll Road.

Expressways where JEP can be used
Expressway where JEP cannot be used

This is the main map of Japan, showing the extensive network of expressways covered by the Japan Expressway Pass. The passable routes are shown in blue, while non-passable routes are in green. Major airports are marked with green airplane icons, and various interchanges and toll roads are labeled throughout the country.